

The era of hybrid work is here.

As we begin to emerge from the global pandemic, one thing is for certain—the future of work will be forever changed.

We are now at an inflection point in the next phase of work, where critical decisions must be made. And while settling for “good enough” collaboration solutions might have helped your customers deal with remote work before 2021, they can’t settle for a lower quality, fragmented, unsecure collaboration experience in this hybrid world. We now have a unique opportunity to fundamentally improve how people work — wherever they are. The path forward is the hybrid workplace and the time act is now.

Strategic investments in the future of hybrid work is a must for your customers.

Flexibility is king for the foreseeable future.
Only 9% of the global workforce expect to fully return to the office after offices reopen.

Intelligent workplaces are needed.
96% want to improve their work environments with intelligent workplace technology.

Virtual collaboration is no longer a “nice to have.”
98% believe they will have meetings with participants joining from home going forward.

Office footprints will be optimized.
53% of large organizations are planning to reduce their office footprint.

Five Essential Elements of Hybrid Work

When your customers work in a mixed mode – they need technology to be adaptable and flexible for any role, working style, device, and geography. They need solutions that bring the best of remote work and in-person work together so everyone has an equal voice.

To truly deliver on this, collaboration solutions must be:

Flexible

Adapt to any work style, role, and environment

Inclusive

Equal experiences for everyone

Supportive

Focused on safety, empathy, and well-being

Secure

Secure by design, private by default

Managed

Modern infrastructure, frictionless administration
